SCRUMBAG

Our best wishes and warm congratulations to second grade coach Jamie Brennan and Melanie Smith who were married on Saturday 23rd July (during the Second Grade game against Brighton to be exact). Jamie’s groomsmen were Collegians Joel Fudali and Rob Porteous. Friends and family were relieved to have Jamie get through the vows and the hymns without a single reference to Jesus Fooken Aitch.

Ms College 2005

“Ms College” Pageant 2005 was held on Saturday 23rd July. The contestants were Michael Bell, Peter Cross, Ed Mitchell, James “Kenya” Pinkerton, Leigh Rebbeck, Andrew Sheppard, Ben “Boofy” Suttell and Andrew Waddington. Andy Farquharson was scheduled to compete but was replaced at the last moment by “Aleeyah Aleh Wahaab”. The judges were Andrew Schwilk, Sue Thewlis and David “Sooty” Ludlow. The contestants were required to parade in three outfits: work/sports wear, evening dress and swimsuit/lingerie. They were judged on their performance in each outfit, as well as their little chats with MC Graham Raymond (in a powder blue safari suit). Judge Andrew also awarded them red and yellow cards for inappropriate conduct; Boof and Leigh were carded in every round, a habit we notice carries over from their rugby. Ultimately, Boofy was crowned Ms College by the narrowest of margins with Peter Cross as Runner Up by only one point less. Ms Popularity, decided by the audience, was Andy Farquharson (or is that “Aleeyah”?). Peter Cross was the favourite in the Calcutta auction, being bought for a princely $72. Imogen Hume won the Calcutta, taking away $250 for being a good girlfriend and buying Ben Suttell for a mere investment of $15. Special mentions must go to Leigh in his formidable nurse’s outfit, Crossy’s long legs, Waddington’s unerring determination at hair removal and his stated commitment to “children and world peace”, Shep’s big jugs, Boof’s appalling tuck and “Aleeyah” in her traditional burkiah (complete with flippers and snorkel for the swimsuit section). The scores were perilously close, all contestants being within 8 points of each other, out of a total of 300. The malcontents are blaming Judge Andrew, as they say he always stuffs up the decision for us when the margin is narrow. Thanks to the boys for their incredible efforts, to the judges and to the friends and girlfriends who helped coach them throughout the night. The contestants are shown above (left to right, top to bottom): Boofy, Kenya, Boofy again (censored for the protection of the innocent), Michael Bell, Crossy, “Aleeyah” in her swimsuit, Leigh Rebbeck as the naughty nurse, Andrew Waddington, Crossy (check out the legs), pretty little Ed and Shep wowing us with his big jugs.

RESULTS – 23rd JULY

1st Grade: Old Collegians 26 v Brighton 12 – Tries scored by Leigh Rebbeck, Henry Winter, Paul McFadden and Christian Tedge. Juan Aguiar converted three of the four tries. Ben Suttell was the best player. A good win in a game that both clubs view as a potential preview of this year's grand final. The defence was very strong and our game will only improve with increased team structure and a commitment to 80 minutes of rugby rather than 60.

2nd Grade: Old Collegians 10 v Brighton 30 – Despite the loss this was a better game from the second grade. We tackled well in defensive mode that is why Brighton's score was kept down. We lost a lot of our own line out ball, possibly because we had very little variation in the throw. Best player was Ed Mitchell.

Under 18s – Colts: Old Collegians 27 v Vikings 0 – Well done to the Colts with their first win for the year! Our Number 8 had a particularly good game.

3rd Grade: Brighton 57 v Old Collegians 0 – A disappointing result but better play than earlier losses this year. Best player was Brad Morson.

4th Grade: Brighton 14 v Old Collegians 22 – Great result from the 4s, their 11th win in a row!

Women's XV: Southern Suburbs 15 v Old Collegians 14 – The two tries were scored by Zoë Woodstock and Kate Reynolds, with Beck Derbyshire-Lloyd making both conversions. Bec Manson was the best player on the day. The girls were sorry to lose this game and particularly by such a small margin. They looked absolutely unstoppable in extended passages of play but let themselves down in between by giving away many pointless and undisciplined penalties.

U 8s: Old Collegians 40 v Vikings 40 – The best game this year!

U 9s: Old Collegians 10 v Vikings 30

U 11s: Old Collegians 45 v Vikings 22

U 12s: Old Collegians 0 v Vikings 60

U 14s: Old Collegians 87 v Vikings 0 – Whole team played brilliantly, especially No. 12.

U 16s: Old Collegians 36 v Vikings 26 – A win, but not a pretty one.
